Through Their Transactions

We invite you to work with the Best Practices Certified company that ensures your clients will have a joyous and worry-free closing

Your clients should be riding high when it comes time to buy a new home.

However, we know the transaction can be stressful. That's why at North American Title, our #1 goal is to eliminate as much worry and concern from the transaction as possible. One way we did that in 2016 was by Earning Best Practices Certification from Aprio (formerly HA&W).

Earning Best Practices Certification is a testament to our dedication to building substantive systems to meet the highest standards of compliance in the industry. It is also your assurance that we comply in all material respects with the American Land Title Association Best Practices framework.
